about us

TUMBALINA is in the business of happiness.

We measure our success in smiles.

Every digital design or artisanal card we create is intended to capture, honor, share and celebrate life's most significant moments. The moments and the memories... that make people smile.

Once a small cadre of crafters in a Bedford, New York garage, Tumbalina has grown under the vision (and boundless energy!) of our founder and chief inspiration officer, Oak Atkinson, into a global retail and e-tail paper goods company known for heart-warming, award-winning designs.

Beyond our expansive selection of heartfelt greetings, some of our more notable digital collections include warm and whimsical "special person" signage and a bounty of easy-to-download wedding cards, tableware, notices and novelties, certain to beguile any bride.

Ever evolving, Tumbalina embraces and harnesses the best of technology to give our customers instant access to life-enhancing designs.

Tumbalina --- touching hearts, one by one.
